Summary

With three years of experience, including two years as a freelancer on Upwork and one year in a remote position with PRD Construction, I collaborate seamlessly with backend data professionals and translate Figma designs into functional, user-centric websites. My commitment to staying current with industry trends is evident in my proficiency with GitHub, Git, and my use of Webpack and npm for streamlined project development. My GitHub repository showcases a portfolio of projects, reflecting my dedication to clean, efficient, and collaborative coding practices. I am a proactive and adaptable developer, ready to contribute to innovative and dynamic web solutions.
